Greek Prostitutes in the Ancient Mediterranean
Edited by Allison Glazebrook and Madeleine M. Henry
“By questioning the class-based polarity between courtesan and whore, the authors substantially correct academic readings of the Greek prostitute as cultural construct, embedding them in gritty reality.”
—Marilyn Skinner, University of Arizona
Paper $26.95 | eBook $16.95

FORTHCOMING AUGUST 2013

Couched in Death
Klinai and Identity in Anatolia and Beyond
Elizabeth P. Baughan
“A tour de force of meticulous research, broad reach, and thoughtful interpretation, Couched in Death will remain the definitive publication of klinai and kline tombs for decades to come.”
—Elisabeth R. M. Dugihorn, author of Aspects of Empire in Achaemenid Sardis
Cloth $65.00 | eBook $29.95

Antigone
A verse translation by David Mulroy
Sophocles
“…this version is far superior to any translation of the Antigone known to me. For the modern reader, the Antigone is now a rich and rewarding play in English.”
—Robert B. Bechtle, author of Plot and Point of View in the “Kublai Khan”
Paper $9.95 | eBook $7.95

Oedipus Rex
A verse translation by David Mulroy
Sophocles
“Recaptures the aesthetic power of Sophocles’ masterpiece while also achieving a highly accurate translation in clear, contemporary English. Also available as an audiobook performed by actors from the American Players Theatre and by musicians and chorus from the University of Wisconsin–Madison School of Music.”
Paper $9.95 | eBook $7.75 | CD $24.95

Aeschylus’s Suppliant Women
The Revenge of Immigration
Geoffrey W. Bakewell
“With his sensitivity to both philological and theatrical issues, his lovely clear style and sober, erudite judgment, Bakewell is an ideal guide through this uncannily resonant ‘tragedy of immigration.’
—Jennifer Wise, University of Victoria
Paper $29.95 | eBook $24.95

THE SLAVE IN GREECE AND ROME
Jean Andreau and Raymond Descat
“[This] excellent monograph… covers chattel slavery from Mycenaean times to the end of the Roman empire. Its focus is on the economic use and the everyday existence of slaves, in classical Athens and republican and imperial Rome.”
—Neil McKeown, The Classical Review
Paper $19.95 | eBook $7.95

THE GIFT OF CORRESPONDENCE IN CLASSICAL ROME
Friendship in Cicero’s Ad Familiares and Seneca’s Moral Epistles
Amanda Wilcox
An innovative approach to two major collections of Roman letters, informed by modern cross-cultural theories of gift-giving.
Paper $34.95 | eBook $19.95

Many of our scholarly books are now also available electronically at research libraries, including the University Press Content Consortium within Project MUSE.

Ladislaus J. Bolchazy Award for an Outstanding Textbook

The CAMWS Executive Committee recently initiated a campaign to raise funds sufficient to endow an annual award to be called the Ladislaus J. Bolchazy Award for an Outstanding Textbook. It is hoped that, as a result of this initiative, a monetary prize of $250-500 will be award annually to the author(s) of the best pedagogy book published within a three year period. This award would honor the outstanding contributions made to the field of Classics, especially in the area of classical pedagogy, by the late Ladislaus J. ("Lou") Bolchazy. The following individuals have contributed to the fund to make this award a reality.

Institutional Members of CAMWS 2012-2013

Institutional members of CAMWS receive these benefits:

- One CAMWS award for an outstanding student to be chosen by the institution. The student receives a congratulatory certificate stating that the school has designated the student as a recipient of a CAMWS Award for Outstanding Accomplishment in Classical Studies for the current academic year, plus a free membership in CAMWS for the following academic year.
- The option to choose up to two additional student award recipients ($25 each).
- A certificate stating the institution's support of CAMWS.
- Publication of institutional announcements free of charge in the CAMWS Newsletter.
- K-12 Institutional Members receive one complimentary registration for one person at the CAMWS Annual Meeting.
- Inclusion on the list of CAMWS Member Institutions, which is printed in the program of the CAMWS Annual Meeting, printed in the CAMWS Newsletter, and posted on the CAMWS Website (with hotlinks to the websites of institutional members).

Wilfred E. Major, STAGING ANDROMEDA IN ARISTOPHANES AND EURIPIDES

Abstract: Aristophanes’ parody of Euripides’ Andromeda (Th. 1011–1100) allows for more recovery of the blocking of both the parody and original than has been recognized. In-law in the parody (Andromeda in the original) should be bound and immobile to one side of the performance space, while Echo, Euripides (as Perseus), and his helpers enter and exit from the opposite side, with the Scythian guard controlling the center.

D. Felton, WERE VERGIL’S HARPIES MENSTRUATING?

Abstract: This paper argues that foedissima ventris /proluvies at Vergil, Aeneid 3.216-7 should be read not only in its usually accepted context of the hunger motif prevalent in Book 3 (and beyond) but also in the context of ancient attitudes toward menstruation. The unspecified nature of the discharge and its source as well as descriptions of the polluting effect of the Harpies’ touch have parallels in descriptions of menstruation such as that found in Pliny the Elder (Nat. 7.64). Such a reading would also be in keeping with Vergil’s tendency to “monsterize” female sexuality.

Yasuko Taoka, LIMINAL WOMEN IN FRONTO’S LETTERS

Abstract: This paper seeks to contribute to the study of epistolography as well as to discussions of women in antiquity by examining the use of references to women in the correspondence of Fronto and Marcus Aurelius as epistolographic borders. The depictions of Domitia Lucilla (Marcus Aurelius’ mother) and Cratia (Fronto’s wife) construct an inner, homoeroticized space for Fronto and Marcus demarcated from the domestic sphere populated by the women. The letters, as a site of rhetorical presentation and interpersonal negotiation, provide Fronto and Marcus with the means to define their relationship.

Forum: Keyne Cheshire, UNDER THE PLANE TREE: HOW WOULD SOCRATES GRADE PAPERS?

Abstract: A professor recounts his positive experience grading papers through one-on-one sessions in which students read their work aloud and discussed it with him. This candid report features a former student as inspiration and includes confessions of self-doubt, course evaluation comments, and suggestions for running such a Socratic grading session.

Isthmia: The Roman and Byzantine Graves and Human Remains
by Joseph L. Rife

Isthmia: The Roman and Byzantine Graves and Human Remains is the first monographic publication of graves and human remains on this scale from any site in Greece for any time period. It is the first osteological monograph to apply current theoretical and methodological approaches in mortuary analysis and bioarchaeology. Its adept blend of physical and social sciences illuminates ritual, ideology and social structure in the Greek countryside from the Roman era to the early Byzantine period. The rare evidence from Isthmia can shed significant light on this obscure era that was a momentous yet poorly understood transition for both urban and rural communities.

The American School of Classical Studies at Athens congratulates Prof. Joseph L. Rife, Vanderbilt University, on receiving the 2013 CAMWS Outstanding Publication Award for Isthmia: The Roman and Byzantine Graves and Human Remains (Isthmia IX)

ROMA SUB ROSA®
THE INVESTIGATIONS OF GORDIANUS THE FINDER

In ancient myth, the Egyptian god Horus came upon Venus engaged in one of her many love affairs. Cupid, her son, bribed Horus with a rose to keep quiet; thus the rose became the symbol of confidentiality, and a rose hanging over a council table indicated that all present were sworn to secrecy. Sub Rosa (“under the rose”) has come to mean “that which is done in secret.” Thus ROMA SUB ROSA: the secret history of Rome, as seen through the eyes of Gordianus.

“The detail is meticulous.” (Archaeology Magazine)
