CAMWS Newsletter

Message from the President of CAMWS

Salvete amici!

As I begin my year as President of CAMWS I want to express my appreciation for the honor you have accorded me in enabling me to serve you and the cause of our profession in still another way. I hope you all had a relaxing summer, whether in the classroom, in research, or in a complete change of pace.

I think we have an exciting year ahead of us. You have received the Call for Papers; the Deadline is October 22. I encourage you to make a proposal and join in the exchange of ideas that presenting a paper will produce.

I also encourage you to be early in sending in your membership dues; also, take every opportunity to encourage others to join. Let us work together to increase our membership to keep CAMWS vital with new people and ideas.

Valete,

Roy Lindahl
President, CAMWS

Judy Hahn CAMWS Good Teacher Award Winner

At the convention in Iowa City, CAMWS proudly named Judith L.

Hahn as the winner of its annual Good Teacher Award for 1993.

Ms. Hahn has taught at South Side H.S. in Fort Wayne, IN, since 1987 but has been active in the classroom for many years. She is especially effective in encouraging her students to excel, be it as officers of NJCL or of the Indiana JCL or as winners in numerous contests ranging from the state to the national level. Yet despite all this success, her principal notes, she is always seeking innovative means of teaching such as her recent venture with cooperative learning techniques.

Join us in congratulating Ms. Hahn on her award and join us all in our constant desire to recognize the best among us. Each of us knows a teacher in our area who goes that extra mile to promote the cause, often doing so with little or no recognition. Start thinking about which teacher you will nominate for this year's award. For further information, write to Prof. Michelle P. Wilhelm, Chair, Good Teacher Award, Dept. of Classics, 204 Joyner House, Miami University, Oxford, OH 45056, tel. 513/529-1485.

The CPL At Work

The Committee for the Promotion of Latin is one of the many ways CAMWS reaches out to its members. One of its special projects during the past year was an hour-long videotape, written and hosted by Norma Goldman of Wayne State University, instructing students in the art of making Roman costumes. The video tape is divided into two sections: Part I surveys Roman dress from the time of the Etruscans through the Augustan period; Part II continues the narrative from the time of Augustus through the Byzantine Age. The videotape is available for $19.95 as item V1 from the ACL's Teaching Materials and Resource Center, The American Classical League, Miami University, Oxford, OH 45056. Re-

THE CLASSICAL ASSOCIATION OF THE MIDDLE WEST AND SOUTH COLLEGE AWARDS

Application Form Deadline: December 15, 1993

There will be up to seven (7) $500 awards and memberships in CAMWS for the 1994-95 college year.

Any junior or senior taking his/her final year in high-school Latin in the 1993-94 school year from a secondary school in the 31 states and 3 provinces of CAMWS, whose teacher is a member of CAMWS (membership information can be found in this newsletter), and who will continue to work in Greek and Latin for at least one year at any college or university, is eligible to compete for the awards.

There will be one examination consisting of a passage of Latin prose and one of poetry, both for translation at sight. The examination is intended primarily for students who have had three or four years of Latin, but superior second-year Latin students may also enter the competition.

The examination must be administered by a school official other than the Latin teacher during the week of January 31, 1993-February 4, 1993.

NINE INVITATIONS FROM THE SECRETARY-TREASURER

1. Everyone is invited to participate in what portends to be one of the best years for CAMWS.
2. All members are invited to renew their memberships as soon as possible. Membership renewal materials were mailed in July. In case yours didn't arrive or has been misplaced, a membership renewal form is printed in this newsletter.
3. Members are also invited to order academic journals listed on the membership form at the CAMWS special rate.
4. There is always a standing invitation to donate to CAMWS scholarship and awards programs whether by using the membership form or writing the Secretary-Treasurer.
5. Please accept a special invitation to attend this year's annual meeting of the Association in Atlanta, Georgia on April 6-10.
6. Those wishing to become more involved in the Association by service on one of the committees are invited to write the Secretary-Treasurer of that interest.
7. Everyone is encouraged to contact the CAMWS representative in your area (the state vice-president) for information on CAMWS Awards or CAMWS financial support in promoting Latin programs in secondary schools or Classics programs in colleges and universities.
8. You are welcome to xerox the membership form in this newsletter for distribution to colleagues who may have not yet affiliated with CAMWS.
9. Finally, you are very much invited to extend these invitations to persons whom you believe may benefit from CAMWS affiliation.

Oliver Phillips, of University of Kansas has volunteered to compile a list of CAMWS members who are "wired" to receive E-mail. This is an excellent idea and easy to do. Just drop Oliver a message at one of the two following addresses:

phillips@ukanaix.cc.ukans.edu OR ophil@kuhub.cc.ukans.edu and the information will automatically be registered with him. Or, if you prefer, you can "snail-mail" (that is, USPS) him at Dept. of Classics, Wescoe Hall, University of Kansas, Lawrence, KS 66045. Having such a list available will come in handy, for example, when we need to solicit letters in a hurry to come to the aid of an embattled Classics program.

New Promotional Materials Available

The National Committee on Latin and Greek has two noteworthy items for all to use in promoting our field. They are offered through the good graces of the ACL's Teaching Materials Resource Center, headed by CAMWS' Jack Dutra. The first was mentioned in the previous newsletter. This is the publicity packet entitled "Latin for the 90's." It contains over 50 camera-ready items which can be used and duplicated to help you start, boost, or retain a Latin program in your area. It is only $6.20 and is item B908. The second item is a brochure entitled Why Latin in the Elementary and Middle School? As you know, this is a burgeoning area of Latin growth. This brochure is only $.25 or you can order 25 for $3.00 or 100 for $10.00. Write TRMC, ACL, Miami University, Oxford, OH, 45056.

member that there is a discount for ACL members.

During the coming academic year, CPL will be undertaking three major projects: 1) the development of new strategies and materials aimed at increasing enrollments in existing Latin programs; 2) a drive for new CAMWS members in all our states and provinces; and 3) a continuation of the project, begun last year, of surveying all existing Latin programs through-out the entire CAMWS area.

The Birth of Democracy

You may have heard of the wonderful exhibit which is running in Washington, D.C. until January 2, 1994, housed at the Archives Building. It is entitled "Democracy 2500," a figure based on the date given Cleisthenes and his formation of Athenian democracy. Interesting that we are reading this year about "reinventing" government. As usual, the ancients beat us to it.

You now have the opportunity to order the catalog text with many essays, 90 color illustrations and 44 b/w photos and drawings. Likewise, there is available a set of 40 color slides of the objects from the collection which are from the Athenian Agora. The book is $20 plus $2.50 for shipping and handling. The slides are $55, which includes all charges. Make checks payable to The American School of Classical Studies and send it to The American School of Classical Studies, 41 East 72nd St., New York, NY, 10021.

NATIONAL GREEK EXAMINATION

The National Greek Examination will sponsor its 17th annual examination on March 7-12, 1994. The examinations in the NGE battery comprise Attic Greek (Levels 1-3); Iliad (Level 1); Odyssey (Level 1); and Modern Greek (Levels 1 and 2). The examinations may be taken by high school students or college students enrolled in elementary or intermediate Greek. The examinations will be administered in the students' own high school or college/university by a disinterested examiner. The cost is $3.00 per students.

For an application blank, write to Ed Phinney, Chair, National Greek Examination, Dept. of Classical Studies, Univ. of Massachusetts, Amherst, MA 01003, or call 413-545-5780 during business hours, EST. The deadline for applications to the 1994 examination is Monday, January 10, 1994. The National Association of Secondary School Principals has placed this program on the NASSP Advisory List of Contests and Activities for 1993-94.

NEH Summer Seminars for Non-College Teachers

Note the following seminars of varying length, each designed to enable fifteen teachers (primarily, but not solely, aimed at those teaching grades 7-12 in a public, private or parochial school). Stipends vary but are designed to cover travel costs to and from the seminar, books and other expenses, and living expenses for the duration. You can obtain full information by writing the seminar directors directly. Note that you may apply to only one seminar. Those who even apply to more than one will not be eligible for a place in any seminar.

Completed applications are due postmarked no later than March 1, 1994. You may choose from among the following. All dates are 1994.

Ovid's Metamorphoses: Myth in its Physical and Poetic Landscapes. June 20-July 22.

GO AWAY !!

There are many opportunities for classicists to visit the lands we study. Here are but a few.

- The University of Georgia will once again offer Summer Studies Abroad in Rome and Excavations at Carthage. Participants in the Rome program spend approximately seven weeks in the city, with numerous field trips and an excursion to Pompeii and the Bay of Naples. Participants in the Carthage program work for approximately six weeks on-site in Tunisia. Graduate and undergraduate credits may be awarded and all college students are eligible as are teachers seeking certification credits. Teachers may be eligible for ACL, CAMWS, NEH, and other scholarships. For details write Dept. of Classics, Park Hall, University of Georgia, Athens, GA 30602-6203, tel. 706-542-9264.
- The Vergilian Society of America announces its 42nd annual Classical Study Programs for Summer of 1994. Karl Galinsky and Alexander McKay, well known to all in CAMWS, will lead a tour entitled "Roman Portugal, Morocco and Tunisia" from June 27-July 10, 1994. Paul F. Burke of Clark University and Charles-Marie Ternes of the Centre Alexandre-Wiltheim in Luxembourg will lead "Religions of Vergil's Campania" from July 18-30, 1994 and Richard Monti (UW, Milwaukee) and Mary E. Moser (Dickinson College) will lead "Ancient Campania as a Literary Terrain" from August 2-13, 1994. The programs combine lectures, visits to museums, and on-site study of the remains. All sessions may be taken for university credit. Enrollment in each session is limited and early application is therefore advised. For further information and application packets, please write to Prof. Robert Wilhelm, Executive Secretary, Vergilian Society, Box 167, Oxford, OH 45056. Tel. 513-523-7329 or 523-1486; FAX 513-523-2039.
- The Mediterranean Society of America, Inc., has announced a seminar in Roman Britain for May 31-June 16, 1994. The seminar will include visits to Roman sites in England and Scotland, including, among others, Hadrian's Wall and the Antonine Wall; the towns of Chester, York, Bath, and St. Albans; the Roman palace at Fishbourne; and museums containing major collections of Roman remains. The seminar will end in London. The directors will be Julian Ward Jones, Jr., Chancellor Prof. of Classics at the College of William and Mary and C. Wayne Tucker, Prof. of Classics at Hampden-Sydney College. Both are well known as active CAMWS members who have served the organization well over the years. For more information and details write Prof. Tucker at Box 68, Hampden-Sydney, VA, 23943 or call him at 804-223-6244.
- Campania Tours also announces a two-week Senior Studies tour entitled "The Grand Tour: Naples, Campania, and the Amalfi Drive." It is designed to introduce participants to the history and culture of Greco-Roman Italy in the neighborhood of Naples and the Bay. The headquarters will be the Villa Vergiliana at Cumae. The dates are May 15-28, 1994 and it is not too early to begin your plans. The tour has been organized with senior citizens in mind, but anyone may apply and all will definitely benefit. For full information and registration forms, write Robert Wilhelm at the PO Box just listed above. In Canada Write Alexander McKay, One Turner Ave., Hamilton, Ontario, Canada L8P 3K4, tel. 416-526-1331, FAX 416-577-6930. Profs. McKay and Wilhelm will lead the tour.
- In similar company (note how many of these good folks are CAMWS standouts) the ACL announces a study tour marking its diamond anniversary. The tour is entitled "The Myths of Latium and Campania: Vergil's Aeneid and Ovid's Metamorphoses" and is scheduled for July 1-23, 1994. The directors are Michelle and Robert Wilhelm and Alexander McKay, whose addresses are just above. Write them for complete information and application forms.

Teacher Placement Services

The newsletter hopes to publish as full as possible a list of job placement services which exist within the CAMWS area. Those who head, or those who are merely aware of, an existing placement service are requested to forward the most current information to the editor of the newsletter as soon as possible. Include an appropriate address and telephone number, please, as those interested will be asked to contact the services directly and individually.

MELLON POSTDOCTORAL FELLOWSHIPS 1994-1995

These are awarded to highly promising scholar-teachers in the Humanities (Classics is specifically listed) and are non-faculty, one-year positions which carry department affiliation and limited teaching duties as well as the opportunity for scholarly work and intellectual growth. The PhD must be in hand by September, 1994 and preferably received within the last seven years. The award carries an annual stipend of $32,000 and may be renewed for a second year. U.S. citizenship is not required.

Three letters of reference and application papers for 1994-95 are due as early as possible and no later than November 15, 1993. This is a firm deadline. New fellows will be notified in early March, 1994.

For further information write The Dean, School of Humanities and Sciences, Stanford University, Stanford, CA, 94305-2070 or call 415-7234-9785.

Warlick-Mannion Scholarship

The Dept. of Classics of the University of Georgia invites applications for the Warlick-Mannion Scholarship for the next academic year. The scholarship was established in honor of Charles Louis Warlick and Nora Patricia Mannion for undergraduates who will study classical languages at the University. The Scholarship carries a stipend of up to $1,000 for the first year and may be renewed upon reapplication. For additional information and application forms, contact Dr. Edward Best, Scholarship Committee, Dept. of Classics, Park Hall, Univ. of Georgia, Athens, GA 30602-6203, tel. 706-542-2118. Deadline for application is February 1.

Pompeiana

Do not forget that Pompeiana, Inc. publishes a monthly newspaper that can be of great use in the classroom. The Pompeiana Newsletter features current articles about the study of Latin, the classical world, archaeology, art, mythology, Latin authors, and new discoveries. The paper also features games, puzzles, and cartoons.

A subscription runs from September through May and costs just $15.00. If the teacher subscribes first then the cost of a subscription is $3.75 each for six (minimum) thorough fifty students and $3.50 each for fifty-one or more students.

The address is Pompeiana, Inc., 93-94 Subscriptions, 6026 Indianola Ave., Indianapolis, IN 46220.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The American Classical League's Committee on Educational Computer Applications has released its 1993 Software Directory for the Classics. Previously titled A Survey of Latin Instructional Software for the Microcomputer, the booklet has been updated every two years since 1985 and now includes instructional software for Greek, etymology, and Classical Civilization, as well as authoring systems, multilingual wordprocessors, font software, and multimedia materials on CD-ROM and laserdisc.

Its 95 pages provide brief descriptive reviews of most items and contact information for all software listed. There are also summary checklists of basic program characteristics and costs. The directory, compiled and written by committee chair Rob Latuousek, is distributed by the ACL Teaching Materials and Resource Center, Miami University, Oxford, OH 45056, tel. 513-529-7441, FAX 513-529-7742. The cost is $10, plus $3.70 for shipping and handling.

The Classical Association of the Atlantic States invites papers from teachers and advanced graduate students on all aspects of the Classical world and on new strategies for improved teaching. Preference is given to topics of wide interest and sessions on special topics are encouraged. Abstracts of about 300 words, in triplicate and nameless should be sent to Dr. Mary Moser, Dept of Classics, Dickinson College, Carlisle, PA 17013. The meeting is scheduled to be held at Carlisle April 29-30, 1994 and the deadline for submission is November 15, 1993.

The Iowa FLES Newsletter began locally nine years ago but has spread out to include all those who are interested in the teaching of foreign languages in the elementary classroom. As you may know, this is a growing area of interest for Latin teachers. A subscription for a year is only $6.00 for Iowa residents, $7.50 for those outside the state. To subscribe, send a check in the appropriate amount, made out to Iowa FLES Newsletter, Marcia Rosenbusch, Editor, Iowa FLES Newsletter, 300 Pearson Hall, Iowa State University, Ames, IA 50011.

The National Greek Examination will sponsor its 17th annual examination on March 7-12, 1994. The examinations in the NGE battery comprise Attic Greek (Levels 1-3); Iliad (Level 1); Odyssey (Level 1); and Modern Greek (Levels 1 and 2). The examinations may be taken by high school students or college students enrolled in elementary or intermediate Greek. The examinations will be administered in the students' own high school or college/university by a disinterested examiner. The cost is $3.00 per students.

For an application blank, write to Ed Phinney, Chair, National Greek Examination, Dept. of Classical Studies, Univ. of Massachusetts, Amherst, MA 01003, or call 413-545-5780 during business hours, EST. The deadline for applications to the 1994 examination is Monday, January 10, 1994. The National Association of Secondary School Principals has placed this program on the NASSP Advisory List of Contests and Activities for 1993-94.

The National Endowment for the Humanities periodically publishes a useful tool called Overview of Endowment Programs. It describes all of the funding opportunities they offer—more than thirty different programs—and is free to those who are thinking of applying for grants. The booklet includes such useful information as guidelines, how to obtain application forms, deadlines, addresses and telephone numbers of state humanities councils, and the like.

To get a copy, write NEH Overview, Room 407, 1100 Pennsylvania Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20506 or call 202-606-8438. Mention that you saw this notice in the CAMWS Newsletter and you will also be sent a sample copy of Humanities magazine, a most useful journal.

Join CAMWS – See the World

Arrange your calendars now so that you can be sure to join with us at these CAMWS annual meetings. If you have been, you know what you could be missing. If not, come and find out what you have missed.

1994	April 6-9	Atlanta, GA	Emory University
1995	April 19-22	Omaha, NE	Creighton University
1996	April 10-13	Nashville, TN	Vanderbilt University
1997	April 2-5	Indianapolis, IN	Butler University

Universities interested in sponsoring an annual meeting of CAMWS should write for information to Prof. John Hall, Secretary Treasurer, CAMWS 118 KMB, Brigham Young University, Provo, UT 84602. The present policy of the CAMWS Executive Committee favors sites with several major hotels in order to allow for better prices thorough competitive bidding.

Convention sites in the South are desired for 1998 and 2000, non-Southern sites for 1999 and 20001.

AWARDS TO MEMBERS

We all know that CAMWS people are among the hardest working classicists in America. Two recent awards to CAMWS members point this out especially well. Daniel Levine of Arkansas is well known as a tireless worker for and promoter of things classical. For this hard work and for his excellence in the classroom the APA recently honored him with its Award for Excellence in Teaching at its annual meeting in New Orleans. Likewise, Don Hoffman of St. Ignatius Prep in Chicago has for years had excellent success with his students in the College Awards Competition. All the while he has served CAMWS in a variety of roles and positions. In honor of his 25 years of working with this young students, Don was recently feted by the Board of Trustees of St. Ignatius Prep and a nice interview with him ran in the school's magazine, reprinted in the ICC Newsletter.

On the student front, Ms. Nathalie Roy of Louisiana State University was the recipient of CAMWS' annual award to study at the American School of Classical Studies in Athens.

There are many such success stories in CAMWS. Please get in the habit of sending in all such announcements to the editor. Send in special notices about awards and achievements of our students, colleagues and even ourselves! By so doing you are not so much tooting your own horn, but rather letting others know the wide variety of opportunities which are available for them as well.
