M.A. in Classics

Become a better teacher!

The Classics Summer Institute offers an opportunity to earn the M.A. in Classics degree during the course of four summers. The program is specially designed for teachers who want to pursue graduate work without having to leave their current positions. For six weeks each summer, students take classes in both Latin and Classical Culture to improve their reading skills and to increase the breadth of their knowledge. The program includes at least one course on Latin pedagogy, so teachers can hone their own skills in the classroom. Intensive Beginning Greek and Latin also are available. The Classics Summer Institute also features special events such as guest speakers and film nights. Tuition assistance is available for out-of-state students.

Isis in a Global Empire

Greek Identity through Egyptian Religion in Roman Greece

Lindsey A. Mazurek

This book offers academic readers a glimpse into the ways that religion, ethnicity, and globalization intersected in Rome's provinces. By focusing on the worship of Egyptian gods in Greece, it explores how process of appropriation and experiences of geographic space and historical time defined a religious minority in Roman-ruled Greece.

A Comprehensive Introduction to Biblical Greek

New Testament Greek A Reading Course

Sally Teague

New Testament Greek: A Reading Course is a clear, step-by-step approach to the fundamentals of biblical Greek. Concepts are presented in small, manageable increments, followed by short exercises that promote mastery. In two levels, learners encounter all of the grammar that they need to read the New Testament in its original language. Each level of the student text features a wealth of practice drills and readings. Companion workbooks provide even more opportunities to hone language skills—typically 3 to 6 additional exercises per chapter.

From the beginning, this comprehensive course reinforces vocabulary and grammar lessons with carefully chosen unadapted readings. Level 1 includes selections from more than 100 verses from the Septuagint and 400 verses from the New Testament. Upon completing both levels, learners will have read excerpts from more than 1,500 biblical verses!

Level 1 is now available! Look for Level 2 in Fall 2023.
