

Ascanius: The Youth Classics Institute is a 15-year old nonprofit offering:

Student Programs

Toga Trek*: a series of interactive online videos introducing ES/MS students to important topics in ancient Roman culture

Roman Explorers*: half-day and full-day workshops giving ES/MS students a taste of the language and culture of the ancient Roman world

Teacher Programs

Let's Learn Latin*: workshop preparing and training ES/MS teachers without a Classical background to incorporate basic elements of Latin and ancient Roman culture into their classrooms

Roman Explorations*: multiday workshop, similar to the above, but on-site in Rome, Italy, with plenty of exploration of ancient Roman sites

Publications Series (knowledge of Latin, Greek, or Classical Studies is not necessary to use our publications)

Activitates Liberis*: curriculum guides helping teachers to incorporate Latin, mythology, and Roman culture on the elementary school level

Exploring the Roman World*: student workbooks including fun, engaging activities introducing ES/MS students to the Latin language, Roman culture, and mythology

Getting to Know Greek*: fun activities and stories introducing ES/MS students to the ancient Greek language and culture; online activities and audio recordings accompany

Scholarships

Classical Promise Scholarships*: available to any high school or college Latin student wishing to create or maintain a Latin/Classical Studies program in partnership with an elementary school.

Contests

SCRIBO*: Latin composition contest open to Latin students at any level. Awards given. Top entries are published for reading in Latin classrooms!

Overview

LET'S LEARN LATIN will introduce elementary and middle school teachers to the world of Latin and the ancient Romans through a variety of engaging approaches.

Teachers get to play the role of students, learning the material through the same activities and lessons that they will be able to use in their own classrooms.

Participants will enjoy learning the basics of Latin, using a colorful, interesting, kid-friendly text called Minimus, supplemented by effective and innovative activities to practice the material. No previous experience with Latin is needed!

Participants will receive myriad classroom-ready materials on all topics studied.

Curriculum

The workshop will lead participants through 50% or more of the Minimus text, giving participants the skills and confidence they need to continue their study independently.

This work at the workshop will prepare participants to knowledgeable and confidently teach their students about the following aspects of the ancient Roman world:

- * basics of the Latin language
- * grammatical connections between Latin and English
- * Latin vocabulary and word roots
- * culture and mythology

Why Latin?

Chief benefits of Latin to students: Students will better understand English vocabulary and grammar, the workings of other world languages, and the roots of Western civilization.

Connections to standards: We recognize that for the teaching of Latin and Classical Studies to be effective and feasible, it must be integrated with state standards. Participants will learn about connections to the standards, and other techniques of incorporating these topics into today's busy classrooms.

Schedule (tentative)

A morning session (8:30 am – 11:30 am) will be followed by lunch (11:30 am – 12:00 pm) & an afternoon session (12:00 pm – 3:30 pm).

Key language topics, studied in depth:

greetings
question words
nouns and adjectives
gender linking verbs action verbs
adverbs
plural subjects

Ancillary topics, overview of classroom activities:

- * vocabulary (family, animals, colors, foods, emotions, classroom, body parts)
- * culture (names, writing, Greek pottery, games, art, coins, travel, geography)

Meet the instructors

Nadia Ghosheh
Kevin S. Jefferson

Nadia, a former Latin teacher, is pursuing a Master's degree in Classics at the University of Colorado Boulder. She has been an avid Classicist since high school. She graduated from the University of Virginia in 2012 with a Distinguished Major in Classics. Her favorite aspects about Latin include Roman love poetry, Roman epic, and linguistics. Nadia has been involved with Ascanius since 2011. She has helped to produce the Latin Immersion curriculum and has taught Latin Immersion and Greek classes at previous LatinSummer programs.

Kevin, a former Latin teacher, is pursuing a Master's degree in Classics at the University of Colorado Boulder. He graduated from the University of Virginia with a major in Classics. Since 2006, he has been involved in Ascanius's enrichment camps for ES/MS children, serving as both a teacher and an administrator. Kevin has served as Director of Student Programs for Ascanius, in which role he helped to design, organize, and coordinate both the major LatinSummer programs and smaller student outreach programs. Kevin currently serves as the Chair of the Technology & Social Media Committee.
